

Title: FIELD SIGNALS AND SECTION BATTLE FORMATIONS

National Cadet Corps (NCC) â Official Directorate General Training Notes

1. SILENT BATTLEFIELD COMMUNICATION: Verbal orders are impossible under heavy gunfire or when maintaining tactical silence. Commanders use standard Hand Signals, Whistle Signals, and Rifle Signals to direct fire and movement.

2. STANDARD SECTION FORMATIONS: 1. Single File: Used for moving along narrow mountain tracks or minefield gaps at night; 2. File: Used for marching along roads and hedgerows with observation to flanks; 3. Arrowhead: The standard tactical formation for open terrain offering excellent all-round observation and immediate fire to front and flanks.

4. ADDITIONAL FORMATIONS: 4. Spearhead: For rapid forward thrusts; 5. Diamond: For navigating dense jungle or unknown terrain; 6. Extended Line: The final assault formation bringing maximum forward firepower onto an enemy objective.
