

Title: ORGANIZATION AND STRUCTURE OF THE INDIAN ARMY

National Cadet Corps (NCC) â Official Directorate General Training Notes

1. APEX MILITARY COMMAND: The President of India is the Supreme Commander of the Armed Forces. Strategic control is exercised by the Ministry of Defence headed by the Raksha Mantri. The Chief of Defence Staff (CDS) coordinates joint services, while the Chief of the Army Staff (COAS) commands the Army Headquarters in New Delhi.

2. OPERATIONAL COMMANDS: The Indian Army is organized into 7 functional commands: Northern Command (Udhampur), Western Command (Chandimandir), Eastern Command (Kolkata), Southern Command (Pune), Central Command (Lucknow), South Western Command (Jaipur), and Army Training Command / ARTRAC (Shimla).

3. ARMS AND SERVICES: Arms are frontline combatant forces (Infantry, Armoured Corps, Mechanized Infantry, Artillery, Engineers, Signals, Army Aviation). Services provide logistical, ordnance, and medical support (Army Service Corps, Army Ordnance Corps, Corps of EME, Army Medical Corps).

4. HIERARCHY: Section (10 jawans commanded by Havildar), Platoon (30 jawans commanded by JCO/Subedar), Company (120 jawans commanded by Major), Battalion (800-1000 troops commanded by Colonel), Brigade, Division, and Corps.